TOYOTA COROLLA FX16

THE ZOOM STARTS HERE.
A 3-door liftback never looked this sporty. Sport stripes, flush glass, air dam, optional alloy wheels and many more goodies.

NEW FX16. LIFTBACK ROOM. SPORTS CAR ZOOM.

OPEN WIDE AND SAY, "AHH!"
Liftback room! Five adults and 14.1 cubic feet of cargo in complete comfort. Liftback versatility! Put down the split rear seatbacks and carry almost 30 cubic feet of cargo and two people.

The all-new Toyota Corolla FX16 GT-S has a split personality. Roomy and zoomy. It looks like a roomy 3-door liftback. Which it is. But where does the roominess end and the zoominess begin? With 16 valves, 1.6 liters. Redline, 7500 rpm. Fuel injection. 4-wheel independent suspension and 4-wheel disc brakes. Goodyear Eagle GT tires. There's a lot more, but you get the picture. This is a very serious fun car.

WHO COULD ASK FOR ANYTHING MORE! TOYOTA

Get More From Life... Buckle Up!

ON THE COVER: Since the team's first season in Los Angeles, Chick Hearn has been a part of the Lakers, and the Lakers have been a part of him. It is doubtful that any other announcer has ever been featured on the cover of a team's media guide, but it is also doubtful that any announcer has had such a close relationship with one team. When some people think of Chick Hearn, they think first of the Lakers. When some think of the Lakers, they think first of Chick Hearn. Prior to this season, Chick had his place in the history of Los Angeles immortalized with a star bearing his name added to Hollywood's legendary Walk of Fame. And, later this season, Chick can extend his broadcast streak to 2,000 consecutive games, an amazing string that dates back to 1965.

The Los Angeles Lakers media guide was written and edited by Josh Rosenfeld, with assistance from Janice Wise and Hank Groschadl. Dr. Jerry Buss

Jerry Buss' rise from an impoverished youth in Kemmerer, a small Wyoming mining and sheep ranching community, to his current position of influence in both the business and sports communities was not so much meteoric as it was a product of education and hard work.

A graduate of the University of Wyoming with a Bachelor's degree, Buss received his Ph.D. in Chemistry from the University of Southern California.

In 1958, he and fellow aerospace worker Frank Mariani found among other common bonds a mutual desire to improve their economic status. Applying their scientific training to commerce, chemist Buss and engineer Mariani parlayed an original $1,000 investment in an apartment building into what is today a multi-hundred million dollar real estate business with property throughout California and holdings in Arizona and Nevada.

Buss' first involvement in professional sports came in World Team Tennis in 1974. Each year under his ownership attendance increased steadily until, in 1978, the Los Angeles Strings not only won the league championship, they also broke all attendance records by a large margin.

Buss has been an avid sports fan for as long as he can remember. Unable to pursue even a high school athletic career because of his need to work, his dream had been to be involved in sports. That dream came true in June of 1979 when he purchased the Lakers, Kings and The Forum from Jack Kent Cooke for $67.5 million, the largest sports transaction in history.

The Buss family also owns and operates the Los Angeles Lazers of the Major Indoor Soccer League, the Los Angeles Strings of Team Tennis, and recently began operation of Prime Ticket, Southern California's first cable sports network, which features Forum based teams and events, along with other professional and major college athletic games and events.

Daughter Jeanie, 25, operates the Strings and heads the Forum Championship Tennis operation; youngest son Jim, 26, is President and General Manager of the Lazers, recently succeeding brother John, 29, who is working with his father in the operation of the sports network. Buss' youngest child, Janie, is a college student.

Buss' blue-jean lifestyle is as casual as his business operations are mathematically precise. He involves himself in both with great enthusiasm, as he does his community involvement. He devotes a large measure of his time and resources to many community and youth serving causes. He is most diligent in his support of education and the disadvantaged young and elderly.

Bill Sharman

When the Lakers won the NBA Championship in 1985 it is doubtful that team president Bill Sharman needed to be fitted for a Championship ring—after all, he was collecting his eighth Championship jewel and probably knows that size by heart.

Just call him "Ringo."

You can call him a lot of other things too, like one of the most successful men in basketball history. After all, that most-recent Championship enabled him to claim titles from four different perspectives.

Bill was a member of four NBA Champions as a player with the Boston Celtics, earning his first rings in 1957, 1959, 1960 and 1961.

In 1972, Bill was the coach of the Lakers' first Championship club in Los Angeles, guiding that team to NBA records of 33 consecutive wins and a 69-13 mark in his first year at the helm.

After a highly-successful coaching career Bill moved into the Lakers' front office, where he has been ever since, and the club has added three more Championships. In 1980 and 1982, he served as General Manager for Laker title teams, and in 1985 he annexed his first title as the club's President.

Of course, it was as a player that Bill received his greatest honors, being one of just 10 players named to the NBA's Silver Anniversary team in 1970, and later inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1974.

Bill's NBA career began in 1950, when he was drafted in the second round by the Washington Capitals. He appeared in 31 games as a rookie in 1950-51 for the Capitals and, after being selected by Ft. Wayne in the dispersal draft of the Washington franchise in 1951, was later traded to the Celtics.

In his 10 seasons as a Celtic the club won four NBA titles, finished first five times and never suffered a losing season. Bill was named to the All-NBA team seven times and participated in eight All-Star Games, earning MVP honors in the 1955 contest and sinking a legendary 88-foot shot in the 1958 game.

Arguably the greatest shooter during the NBA's first generation, Bill was the first guard to shoot .400 from the floor for a season and his .884 career free throw percentage remains the third highest in NBA history. He averaged 17.8 points in 711 regular-season games and improved his performance in his 78 playoff appearances by averaging 18.5 points and hitting 91 percent of his free throws, the second-highest post-season mark in league history.

After retiring from the Celtics in 1961, Bill began a distinguished coaching career and remains the only person to have coached championship teams in three different professional leagues. He began as coach of the Los Angeles Jets in the American Basketball League in 1961-62, then assumed command of the eventual champion Cleveland Pipers after the Jets disbanded in mid-season. Bill later guided the Utah Stars to an American Basketball Association championship in 1970-71.

The following year, his first as coach of the Lakers, he led the team to the greatest record in basketball history. In his seven years as an NBA head coach, including two years with the San Francisco Warriors from 1966-68, his teams won four division titles and wound up with a 330-240 (.581) record. Bill's four Laker clubs won better than 60 percent of their games.

Bill moved into the front office following the 1975-76 season, first as General Manager and, following the team's 1982 Championship season, as President. He ended his playing retirement briefly in 1984 when he participated in the NBA's first Old Timers' Game during All-Star weekend in Denver.

Basketball is not the only sport in which Bill excelled, however. Born in Abilene, Texas on May 25, 1926, his family moved to Lomita, California when he was an infant. He competed in football, baseball, track and basketball at Porterville High School, earning 15 varsity letters and an award as Outstanding High School Athlete in California in 1944. In addition to all of that, he found the time to win the state amateur singles tennis title while in high school.

Following high school Bill spent two years in the Navy, then enrolled at USC, where he was a starter on the Trojans' baseball and basketball teams as a freshman. He was a two-time basketball All-America at USC but left school early after signing a bonus contract with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Though Bill never played in a major league game he has the dubious distinction of having been ejected from one, after an umpire cleared both benches during a hotly-contested battle in the 1951 pennant race. Later that fall, Bill was in the dugout when Bobby Thompson belted the dramatic home run that advanced the New York Giants into the World Series.

Bill and his wife, Joyce, live in Rolling Hills. He has two daughters, Nancy and Janice, and two sons, Tom and Jerry, from a previous marriage.

Jerry West

"How do you think Jerry West would do if he was playing in the NBA today?" the man asked.

"Probably average about 20 points a game," his friend replied.

"He averaged 27 during his career," the questioner noted.

"Yeah, but he's in his 40s now," the friend explained.

Jerry West's success as a basketball player has transferred to the front office. In his four years as the club's General Manager, the Lakers have averaged 59 wins per season, a 72 percent winning percentage, and have reached the NBA Championship Series three times, winning in 1985.

Overlooked in the club's failure to repeat as NBA Champions this past season were the facts that the team won 62 games for the second year in a row, the second-highest win total in Laker history, and had their most successful year at the box office, averaging 16,826 at home during the regular season and, for the first time, selling out all eight playoff games.

Of course, success in basketball is not exactly an alien concept to Jerry. Born on May 28, 1938 in Cheylan, West Virginia, he gained national prominence at East Bank High School, leading his team to the state championship in 1956. He averaged 32.2 points per game that year to become the first player in West Virginia history to score over 900 points in a season.

He went on to the University of West Virginia where he set 12 school records, graduated with a 24.8 scoring average and was a two-time All-America before becoming the Lakers' first pick in the 1960 college draft.

Jerry served as co-captain of the 1960 U.S. Olympic basketball team which won the gold medal and is generally considered the greatest Olympic team ever. He was also a member of the gold medal-winning U.S. squad in the 1958 Pan American Games.

Jerry then embarked on a 14-year career playing in the NBA, all with the Lakers. When he retired after the 1973-74 campaign he had scored 25,194 points, the third player to have reached 25,000 and still the sixth-highest total in NBA history. His 27.0 scoring average is the third-highest in NBA history and he ranks among the all-time leaders in several other categories.

Jerry was the all-time NBA playoff leader in points (4,457) and assists (970) until Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Earvin Johnson passed him, respectively, in the 1985 post-season. His 29.1 scoring average in the playoffs remains the highest in NBA history. He is also still the all-time Laker leader in points, games (932) and assists (6,238).

Two of his most memorable accomplishments were the 1965 playoffs, when he averaged 40.6 points per game, and the 1970 Championship Series, when he sank a 60-foot shot at the buzzer in The Forum to send a game into overtime.

Jerry was selected to the All-NBA first team 10 times, the second team twice, the All-Defensive first team four times and second team once. He was selected to play in the All-Star Game for 13 consecutive seasons and was MVP of the 1972 classic at The Forum, and NBA Playoff MVP in 1969 despite playing for the losing team.

He averaged 25.8 points for the 1971-72 Lakers, which set NBA records by winning 33 straight games and finishing 69-13, before bringing the first NBA title to Los Angeles.

Jerry was elected to the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1979 and was named to the NBA's 35th Anniversary team in 1980.

Jerry returned to the Lakers for the 1976-77 season, replacing Bill Sharman as the club's head coach, and had a 145-101 record in his three seasons at the helm. His first club finished with a 53-29 record, the best in the NBA that season, and, after failing to make the playoffs in the two seasons before he took over, the Lakers made it into post-season play in all three of his campaigns as coach.

Following the 1978-79 campaign Jerry served the Lakers for three years as a special consultant, with the primary responsibility of scouting college players. Prior to the 1982-83 season he was elevated to his present position as the club's General Manager, where he oversees the day-to-day operation of the club and all player personnel decisions.

Jerry and his wife, Karen, reside in Bel Air with their seven-year-old son, Ryan. Jerry has three other sons, David, Mark and Michael, from a previous marriage.

Pat Riley

Unlike club executives Bill Sharman and Jerry West, Pat Riley's solid but unspectacular playing career probably won't gain him admittance into the Basketball Hall of Fame.

But his coaching feats might.

Pat begins his sixth season as the Lakers' head coach sporting the highest winning percentages in NBA history, both for regular-season (286-113, .717) and playoff (57-26, .687) competition. He needs 14 victories to reach the 300 plateau and, if he does so within the first 30 games this season he'll become the fastest coach to reach that milestone in NBA history.

Though he's only coached for five years Pat is tied for fifth place on the all-time playoff wins chart, and he's the first coach in NBA history to lead his team into the Championship Series in his first four years at the helm.

Pat credits much of his success as the Lakers' coach to his mentor while at the University of Kentucky, the legendary Adolph Rupp. He was the Wildcats' MVP for three years and team captain as a senior, though he had his best year as a junior when he averaged 22 points per game and led Kentucky to the NCAA Finals.

Pat was the seventh player selected in the first round of the 1967 college draft by the San Diego Rockets, where he played for three seasons. In May of 1970 the Portland Trail Blazers selected Pat in the expansion draft, but later sold him to the Lakers prior to the start of the season.

Pat spent more than five years of his nine-year NBA career with the Lakers and was a member of the record-setting Championship club of 1972. His best season was 1974-75 when he averaged 11 points per game and had a career-high 38-point outing. The Lakers dealt him to the Phoenix Suns early in the following season and he retired after that campaign.

Pat then joined Chick Hearn as color commentator on Laker broadcasts and was beginning his third season at the microphone when Laker head coach Jack McKinney was seriously injured in a bicycle accident in November, 1979. Assistant coach Paul Westhead replaced McKinney as head coach and, while waiting for a plane at the Denver airport, later asked Pat to join him as his assistant and the Lakers went on to win the title that year.

On Nov. 19, 1981, Pat replaced Westhead as the Lakers' head coach and the club responded by winning 11 of his first 13 games at the helm, establishing the momentum that led to the club's 1982 NBA title. Under his leadership that year the club finished the season winning 50 of its final 71 games, then breezed through the playoffs winning 12 of 14 contests, including an NBA playoff-record nine wins in a row with back-to-back series sweeps.

In March, 1983, he became the third-quickest coach to reach the 100-victory plateau and guided the Lakers to 58-24 record, before the club lost to the Philadelphia 76ers in the Championship Series. After recording a 54-28 record in 1983-84 under Pat, the Lakers again were thwarted in the Championship Series, falling to the Boston Celtics in a dramatic seven-game series.

The 1984-85 season was a banner year for Pat and the Lakers as the club finished with a 62-20 mark, the second-best in club history, and defeated the Celtics, in Boston, for their third title of the '80's. In February of that season Pat recorded his 200th coaching victory in his 289th game, matching Billy Cunningham as the fastest to reach that milestone.

The Lakers got off to a strong start last year, winning their first four games (all on the road) and posting records of 11-1, 19-2 and 24-3, each the best in club history. The club matched its 62-20 record of the previous year and won its fifth straight Pacific Division title, before succumbing to Houston in the Western Conference finals.

Pat was born on March 20, 1945 and also starred in football at Linton High School while growing up in Schenectady, New York. Despite the fact that he didn't play college football at all he was an 11th-round draft choice of the Dallas Cowboys. His brother, Lee, played defensive back in the NFL and his father, Leon, was a major league catcher and minor league manager.

Pat has become one of the pioneers in bringing modern technology to basketball, showing video replays of selected plays at half-time to the club, preparing personalized motivational and instructional videotapes and advocating headphones for coaches on the sidelines.

This past summer, Pat conducted his first camp for youngsters at Cal Lutheran University in Thousand Oaks.

Pat, his wife Chris, and infant son, James Patrick, live in Brentwood.

Pat Riley's 286-113 record since becoming the Lakers' head coach on November 19, 1981, gives him a .717 regular-season winning percentage, the highest in NBA history. Here is Pat's record against the other 22 NBA clubs in regular-season games during his tenure as the Lakers' head coach:

Atlanta	9-1	Houston	20-3	Phoenix	19-9
Boston	4-6	Indiana	7-2	Portland	23-5
Chicago	7-3	L.A. Clippers	24-6	Sacramento	23-2

Pat's 250th NBA victory: January 3, 1986	110-101 vs Utah

Bill Bertka

One of Pat Riley's first major decisions as the Lakers' head coach remains one of his best: naming Bill Bertka as his assistant coach.

As a relative newcomer to coaching, Riley was looking for someone with coaching experience and knowledge of both the NBA and college games. After naming Bill as his assistant, he said he "never really considered anyone else."

This is actually Bill's second tour of duty with the Lakers. He first joined the club in 1968 as chief scout and director of player personnel, remaining in those capacities for six years.

Bill joined the New Orleans Jazz organization when the club was formed in 1974 and served that club in a variety of roles, including General Manager, director of player personnel and assistant coach and was the primary architect during the first eight years of the club's existence before returning to the Lakers.

Bill is perhaps best known as the founder of Bertka Views, the most successful college scouting service in the country, now operated by his wife, Solveig. Many of the nation's premier college basketball programs utilize Bertka Views as their sole scouting service. Meanwhile, Bill, long recognized for his scouting ability, maintains access to more scouting reports on college talent than anyone.

Bill, 59, played his college ball at Kent State University and played in the old National Industrial Basketball League before opting for a career in coaching.

From 1954 through 1957 Bill coached at Hancock College in Santa Maria, California, leading his team to a 42-game winning streak, 97-13 overall record and a California Junior College State Championship in 1957. He then left Hancock and returned to his alma mater, where he served as head coach for four years and helped elevate Kent State's program to the major-college level.

Bill and Solveig have two daughters, Britt and Kris, and make their home in Santa Barbara.

DO YOU KNOW ME?

Surely most NBA fans recognize this figure—the NBA's official logo—which adorns all league publications, merchandise, stationery and virtually every other league-related item. But, did you know that the figure featured in the logo is a Laker player? Actually, he used to be a Laker player and is now an executive with the club. In fact, Jerry West has been pictured on the cover of every NBA Guide since 1970!

Randy Pfund

Randy Pfund is the newest member of the Laker staff, having replaced Dave Wohl, now head coach of the New Jersey Nets, as an assistant coach prior to last season.

But don't expect to see Randy around The Forum too often. His primary responsibility is scouting future Laker opponents and compiling scouting reports, a task which has him on the road away from the team for much of the season.

Even when he's at The Forum for a Laker game he remains inconspicuous, at least for the first half, as he coordinates the Lakers' half-time video session from the auxiliary press box.

Though just 34 years old, Randy brings a wealth of experience and enthusiasm to the coaching staff. It's been 10 years since he quit his job as a high school teacher and coach in Illinois and came to California, where he hooked on at Westmont College, an NAIA school in Santa Barbara, as an unpaid volunteer assistant.

Randy spent eight years as an assistant coach at Westmont, also serving as director of the school's booster organization—a Pfund-raiser, so to speak.

After starring in basketball and football at Wheaton (Illinois) North High School, Randy earned honorable mention All-America honors in basketball at Wheaton College, playing under his father, Lee Pfund.

Pat Riley spoke glowingly of Randy's background in naming him as an assistant on September 17, 1985. "We feel that Randy's eight years as an assistant coach at Westmont College, where he spear-headed their scouting and defensive philosophy and also served as a major administrator, have prepared him for his role with our organization. He embodies all of the qualities and qualifications, both technically and character-wise, that this particular position needs."

Randy added to his experiences this past summer when he coached the Lakers' entry in the Southern California Summer League into the playoffs.

Randy is single and lives in Marina del Rey.

Gene Tormohlen

The name Gene Tormohlen may not mean much to the casual Laker fan, but he is an integral part of the organization.

"Bumper", as he is known throughout the NBA, returns for a fourth season as the Lakers' primary scout of college talent. Gene is beginning his 19th consecutive season assessing college players and he's built a reputation as one of the best scouts in the NBA.

Gene hasn't been scouting all of his life, mind you, it just seems that way. The 6-9 native of Holland, Indiana, was a two-time All-SEC performer at Tennessee, serving as captain of the Vols as a senior. He played for the St. Louis Hawks for six years, retiring when the club moved to Atlanta. He also played with the amateur Cleveland Pipers of the NIBL, leading the team to league and AAU titles in his second season, then played with the Kansas City Steers of the American Basketball League for two years.

Gene served as a scout and an assistant coach with the Hawks for eight years, then as a scout with the Chicago Bulls for seven seasons prior to joining the Lakers before the 1983-84 campaign.

Gene works out of his home in Atlanta, where he lives with his wife, Julie, and two children, Gina and Tommy.

Gary Vitti

Veni, vidi, Vitti.

He came, he saw, he's the trainer.

GIVE THE BELLS Archive.org

Gary joined the Lakers prior to the 1984-85 season after serving as the head athletic trainer at the University of Portland for two years. Prior to that he spent two years as a trainer at the University of Utah as well as two years as assistant trainer of the Utah Jazz.

During his tenure as a college trainer Gary was an instructor of kinesiology and taught several graduate and undergraduate level courses in sports medicine. He has supervised physiological profile studies and has been published in both English and Japanese on this topic. He is currently writing a monthly column in "Sports Medicine Digest."

In addition to the care, prevention and rehabilitation of injuries to Laker players, the 32-year-old Vitti is responsible for all equipment, transportation, hotel accomodations and practice schedules for the club.

Gary grew up in Stamford, Connecticut, where he attended Stamford Catholic High School. He earned a B.S. from Southern Connecticut in 1976 and a M.S. in sports medicine from the University of Utah in 1982.

Gary and his wife, Chris, live in Manhattan Beach with their two dogs, Sam and Buckethead, and cat, Kitty.

Chick Hearn

Do you know where you were on Nov. 20, 1965?

Chick Hearn does. He was in Arkansas, broadcasting the Arkansas-Texas Tech football game. That may not seem very significant until you realize he missed a Laker-Warrior game in Las Vegas that night, and he hasn't missed a game since.

Chick brings a string of 1,942 consecutive games into the 1986-87 season, including 1,701 regular-season games and 241 playoff contests, and can make his 2,000th consecutive broadcast in Salt Lake City on Saturday, Feb. 28.

Arguably the most popular Laker, Chick was assured of becoming a permanent fixture in Los Angeles in late September when a star bearing his name was added to Hollywood's "Walk of Fame." Chick is the lone member of the Laker organization who has been with the club every year since it moved to Los Angeles for the 1960-61 season, and his entertaining "words-eye-view" remains many fans' principle link with the club.

Born Francis Dayle Hearn, Chick grew up in Aurora, Illinois and attended Bradley University. He was given the nickname, "Chick", when, as an AAU basketball player, he was handed a box of sneakers, only to be surprised to find a chicken inside.

Chick came to Los Angeles in 1956 to broadcast USC football and basketball and later did a nightly radio sports show that earned him two Emmy Awards in the 1960's. He has received a Golden Mike Award and has twice been named National Sportscaster of the Year.

It was during the spring of 1961, when the Lakers began competing in the playoffs, that Chick became the only play-by-play announcer the club has ever had. On March 28, 1981, the Lakers honored him with "Chick Hearn Night" and the hundreds of congratulatory letters and telegrams he received, including one from President Ronald Reagan, filled two scrapbooks.

Although best-known for his work with the Lakers, Chick has broadcast virtually every conceivable kind of sporting event, including NCAA football, UNLV basketball, PGA golf tournaments, the first Ali-Frazier fight, the Rose Bowl, the East-West Shrine football game, celebrity tennis and Bowling for Dollars. In addition to his Laker radio/tv simulcasts, Chick also broadcasts Forum boxing and tennis events on the Prime Ticket Network.

A popular dinner speaker who is also seen on numerous commercials, Chick added to his resume this past season by recording a hit rap record entitled "Rap Around."

Chick and his wife, Marge, live in Encino with their daughter, Samantha.

Keith Erickson

When Paul Westhead became the Lakers' head coach in 1979 and subsequently asked then-Laker broadcaster Pat Riley to serve as his assistant, a vacancy was created in the chair next to Chick Hearn.

Keith Erickson has filled that seat ever since.

Keith has a wealth of basketball experience to draw from as the analyst on Laker broadcasts. The El Segundo native played on two NCAA Championship teams at UCLA under John Wooden and later participated in five NBA World Championship Series. He was a member of the Lakers' record-setting Championship club in 1971-72 and averaged 10 points per game for his 12-year NBA career, which included 309 games as a Laker (1968-73).

An excellent all-around athlete, Keith was a member of the 1964 U.S. Olympic volleyball team.

Keith worked as an announcer with CBS, the USA Network and ON-TV before pairing with Chick Hearn during the Lakers' 1979-80 Championship Season. In addition to broadcasting Laker games, he handles beach, collegiate and indoor volleyball telecasts for the Prime Ticket Network.

Keith and his wife, Adrienne, live in Santa Monica with their five children: Angelica, David, Forest, Gloria and Sean.

The Lakers averaged 117.3 points per game last year to lead the NBA in scoring for the first time since 1971-72. The Lakers were 13-5 in games decided by five points or less, 17-1 in games decided by 20 or more points and 12-1 in games in which they limited the opposition below 100 points.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar 33

Height: 7-2 Weight: 257
Position: Center
Born: April 16, 1947 (New York)
High School: Power Memorial (New York)
College: UCLA '69
Residence: Bel Air

Acquired in a trade with the Milwaukee Bucks following the 1974-75 season for Elmore Smith, Brian Winters, Dave Meyers and Junior Bridgeman.

1985-86: If, as the saying goes, "life begins at 40", then some NBA teams are in trouble come playoff time. . . the Laker captain will turn 40 during the last week of this, his unprecedented 18th NBA campaign. . . didn't do too badly as a 39 year old, earning first team All NBA honors for the 10th time and leading the club in scoring for the 11th year in a row by averaging 23.4 points per game, his best showing since 1981-82. . . among the major milestones he reached last season were passing Elvin Hayes to become the all-time NBA leader in minutes (Feb. 14 vs. Atlanta) and games (Feb. 23 at Philadelphia). . . joined Dolph Schayes as the only NBA players to compete in the playoffs for a 15th season. . . ranked 11th in the NBA in scoring and seventh in FG pct. (.564). . . passed the 35,000-point mark on March 30 vs. Golden State. . . hit .765 FTs, .001 below his career high, and he was shooting .782 on March 1. . . played his best against his "heirs apparent", scoring 46 (Feb. 6) and 43 (March 16) points against Houston's Twin Towers and 40 points against New York's Patrick Ewing Feb. 2. . . that 46-point outing was his second-highest scoring game as a Laker and the most points he's scored in a game since he went for 48 at Portland in November, 1975. . . scored 30 or more points 13 times, 20 or more 56 times and extended his NBA-record streak to 696 consecutive regular-season games scoring in double figures. . . had two games in which he made at least 10 FGs without a miss (11-11 vs. Phoenix Dec. 12, 10-10 vs. Golden State Dec. 29), a feat accomplished only twice in Laker history prior to last season. . . rebounded in double figures five times with season-high 12 boards at Atlanta Feb. 24. . . averaged 26.8 points in February and scored 20 or more points in all 13 games that month. . . his points-per-minute were his highest since the 1980-81 season. . . missed three games, March 1 at Phoenix due to a strained right shoulder, and two on the final weekend of the season due to an upper respiratory tract infection. . . scored 21 points in his unprecedented 15th All-Star Game appearance. . . led Lakers in minutes (2,629) for only the second time since 1978-79. . . Lakers' leading scorer in the playoffs averaging 25.9 points, with a high game of 34 points in Game 5 vs. Dallas. . . became NBA's all-time playoff leader in games and FGAs. . . scored 20 or more points in each of the club's final 12 post-season contests. . . averaged 17 points and 24 minutes in first-round sweep over San Antonio, 29.3 points vs. Dallas and 27 points in Western Conference final vs. Houston. . . led Lakers in scoring in 10 of 14 playoff contests. . . needs 175 rebounds to pass Elvin Hayes for third place on NBA's all-time list and 85 blocked shots to become first NBA player to reject 3,000.

CAREER: After becoming the first NBA player to compete in a 17th season last year Kareem is entering his unprecedented 18th pro campaign. . . only player in NBA history to have won six MVP Awards (1971-72-74-76-77-79). . . selected to the All-Star Game 16 times, All-NBA first team 10 times and All-Defensive team 11 times, five on first team. . . one of 15 players to have won NBA titles with two different franchises. . . Rookie of the Year in 1969-70 with the Milwaukee Bucks and the league's second-leading scorer (29.9) that year. . . in addition to winning his first MVP Award the following year he was named playoff MVP as Milwaukee swept the Bullets for the title. . . made it back-to-back MVPs and scoring titles in 1971-72 as he tossed in his career-high 34.8 points per game. . . averaged more than 44 minutes per game that year and scored his career-high 55 points at Boston. . . runner-up for MVP in 1972-73 but won his third trophy the following year, finishing third in scoring (27.0) and fourth in rebounding (14.5). . . came to the Lakers prior to the 1975-76 season in a trade that sent Junior Bridgeman, Dave Meyers, Elmore Smith and Brian Winters to the Bucks. . . became NBA's all-time scoring leader on April 5, 1984 vs. Utah at Las Vegas. . . earned second playoff MVP Award in leading Lakers to title in 1985. . . has averaged 24.3 points since joining the Lakers and ranks with Jerry West and Elgin Baylor among the club's top three in virtually every statistical category. . . credit veteran announcer Eddie Doucette with naming Kareem's favorite weapon the "sky-hook". . . has scored 40 or more points 70 times and grabbed 25 or more rebounds on 16 occasions. . . ranks among all-time NBA leaders in virtually every statistical category (see chart)... needs 72 games to pass Jerry West (932 contests) as all-time Laker leader in that category... also all-time NBA leader in playoff scoring (4,912) and games (180), among other categories... among active NBA players, he's played in more than 400 more games and 22,000 more minutes than any other player, and has scored nearly 15,000 more points than any other active player... virtually the only things he hasn't done in his NBA career are to make a three-point basket and be named MVP of the All-Star Game.

COLLEGE: Led UCLA to three consecutive NCAA titles (1967-68-69) and was the tournament MVP all three years... named College Player of the Year in 1967 and 1969, runner-up to Elvin Hayes as a junior... the Bruins were 88-2 during his three-year varsity career as he averaged 26.4 points and was a three-time unanimous All-America selection... had a legendary career at New York's Power Memorial High School as his teams went 95-6 over four years, including a 71-game winning streak.

PERSONAL: Kareem moved back into his customized Bel Air home, destroyed by fire on Jan. 31, 1983, during the past season... named "Sports Illustrated" Sportsman of the Year for 1985... changed his name from Lew Alcindor in 1971... Kareem means "generous", Abdul "servant for Allah" and Jabbar "powerful"... active in the business world, Kareem has founded and serves as president of Cranberry Records, a new jazz label... has made several appearances as an actor, including roles in movies like "Fletch" and "Airplane" and the television series "Different Strokes", to name a few... has promoted several concerts, including Forum appearances by Diana Ross, Tom Petty and Lionel Ritchie... spent part of the summer in Hawaii... Kareem's revealing autobiography, "Giant Steps", appeared on the best-seller lists during the 1983-84 season... Kareem has two daughters, Sultana and Habiba, and two sons, Kareem and Amir.

Height: 6-10 Weight: 237
Position: Center/Forward
Born: May 24, 1954 (Hicksville, New York)
High School: Brentwood (New York)
College: North Carolina '76
Residence: Westwood

Acquired by the Lakers on Aug. 5, 1981 from the Washington Bullets for Jim Chones, Brad Holland, a second-round pick in the 1982 college draft and a third-round selection in the 1983 draft.

1985-86: Once again, injuries limited Mitch's playing time. . .and, once again, Mitch kept coming back . . .got off to a fast start, scoring in double figures in three of the club's first four games as Kareem's back-up in the middle. . .had his season-high 15 points in the fourth game of the season Nov. 2 at Golden State. . .had his season-high eight rebounds on two occasions. . .missed a total of 23 games due to four injuries. . .suffered a contusion to his larynx when he was elbowed in the throat by Seattle's Tim McCormick on Nov. 29, missing one game but, more importantly, losing his voice for nearly the rest of the season . . .subsequent treatments, including acupuncture, have helped restore his voice. . .missed two games after spraining his right ankle in January. . .missed four games due to a sprained left knee in late February, then sprained the knee again when he returned, requiring arthroscopic surgery on March 5. . .returned to action less than a month later. . .led or tied for the club lead in rebounds on two occasions, scored in double figures nine times. . .averaged 4 points and 3 rebounds in five playoff appearances.

CAREER: Mitch was a first-round draft choice of the Washington Bullets in 1976 and served as the club's sixth man behind Wes Unseld and Elvin Hayes for five years before joining the Lakers. . .a major force on the Bullets' 1978 Championship team and one of 15 players to have won NBA titles with more than one franchise. . . shot .572 FGs as a rookie, at that time a record for first-year players though since broken. . . that .572 at the time was the 10th highest FG pct. in NBA history. . . in 1977-78 he suffered torn ligaments in his right thumb in January and was sidelined for four weeks. . . his 14.6 scoring average in 1978-79 was the second-highest in the NBA among non-starters that year. . . his two highest-scoring (32 points) games of his career came nearly a year apart, Nov. 19, 1977 vs. Kansas City and Nov. 24, 1978 vs. the Lakers. . . after surgery to repair a herniated disc in his back, Mitch came back strong in 1980-81, appearing in all 82 games and setting his personal high for minutes played. . . averaged 12.5 points with a .525 FG pct. and grabbed a career-high 569 rebounds (6.9). . . Mitch's 26 starts with the Lakers at the start of the 1981-82 season were more than he had made in his five years with the Bullets combined, and his .573 FG pct. and 8.1 rebound average were the best of his career. . . made 11-11 FGs vs. San Antonio on Nov. 20, 1981 (getting 25 points and 17 rebounds), only the second time a Laker shot at least 10-10 FGs until this past season, when it happened three more times. . . suffered multiple injuries to his left knee on Dec. 19, 1981 in San Diego and it was feared he would never play again. . . among the injuries was a torn anterior cruciate ligament, which required two operations. . . Lakers were 19-7 at the time of his injury and he had scored in double figures 19 times with 20 or more points six times and seven double-figure rebound games. . . underwent his second knee operation on June 9, 1982, the day after the Lakers won the title, in which part of his patellar tendon was transplanted to replace the ligament. . . underwent daily therapy and rehabilitation for 16 months and returned to the active roster Nov. 18, 1983. . . saw his first action Nov. 25, 1983 against New Jersey. . . appeared in 34 regular-season and nine playoff games that year. . . appeared in 58 regular-season games in 1984-85, his high as a Laker, and 16 playoff contests. . . played his best ball of the season in the Championship Series vs. Boston, averaging 5.2 points and 3.3 rebounds in 14.5 minutes as the Lakers defeated the Celtics for the title.

COLLEGE: Mitch was a standout at North Carolina, where he had a .586 career FG pct. . . . shot .604 as a freshman, .602 as a junior. . . UNC won the ACC Tournament his junior year and Mitch was the league's Player of the Year as a senior. . . averaged 13.5 points per game at North Carolina, and grabbed more than 11 rebounds a game as a junior and senior.

PERSONAL: Mitch continues to work towards his MBA degree at UCLA. . . spent some time during the summer in Hawaii as well as back home in New York and Washington, D.C. . . . owns a chain of high-tech sportswear stores named Commander Salamander and Up Against The Wall in Washington, D.C., Philadelphia and Richmond. . . among his favorite things are Bruce Springsteen, the New York Yankees, Bruce Springsteen, North Carolina basketball and Bruce Springsteen. . . has been involved with numerous charities, most notably the Special Olympics. . . has a two-phase contract which includes working for Dr. Buss when his playing days are over. . . has an older sister and younger twin brothers. . . Ronnie Lester 12

Position: Guard
Born: July 30, 1959 (Canton, Mississippi)
High School: Dunbar (Chicago)
College: Iowa '80
Residence: Glenview, Illinois

Signed with the Lakers as a free agent on Nov. 29, 1984.

1985-86: Ronnie ended the 1985-86 season the same way he started it—on the Injured List...began the season on the Injured List due to tendinitis in his left knee...appeared in 27 games for a total of 222 minutes, his lowest totals since his rookie campaign...despite his limited playing time he ranked second on the club to Magic in assists-per-minute...his .500 FG pct. was .001 below his career high...scored his season-high eight points on two occasions, and had his season-high seven assists and 25 minutes Jan. 25 vs. Denver...appeared in eight straight games at mid-season, but only appeared in four contests between Feb. 6 and March 24...returned to the Injured List on April 2 due to chronic cartilage damage to his left knee and was not on the club's playoff roster, and later underwent arthroscopic surgery on the knee.

CAREER: Ronnie was drafted by the Portland Trail Blazers in the first round (10th overall) of the 1980 college draft, then traded to Chicago on draft day in a swap of first-round picks...appeared in just eight regular-season games as a rookie after cartilage surgery on his right knee on Nov. 3, 1980 sidelined him for most of the season...had career-playoff-high 10 points vs. the Celtics that spring...had his most productive year in 1981-82, appearing in 75 games, 74 as a starter, and averaging a career-high 11.6 points...had his career-high 27 points at Dallas March 17, 1982, also getting 13 assists, one below his career high, and four steals that game...appeared in 65 games in 1982-83 with 38 starts, but sidelined for 16 games late in the season due to a cracked right kneecap...appeared in 43 games in 1983-84, averaging 5.4 points...went to training camp with the Bulls in 1984-85 but suffered a sprained ankle late in the pre-season and began the season on the Injured List...returned to the active roster but waived by the Bulls on Nov. 16 before he had appeared in a game...the Lakers signed him two weeks later and he wound up appearing in 32 regular-season and nine playoff contests as the Lakers defeated the Celtics for the NBA title.

COLLEGE: Had a spectacular career at Iowa before suffering an injury to his right knee as a senior which sidelined him for 15 games...had his number retired as he left Iowa as the school's all-time leading scorer (1,675) and playmaker (480 assists)...despite the injury he was a "Sporting News" second team All-America as a senior and also received All-America honors from AP and UPI as a junior...led Iowa in scoring in his first three seasons there and voted the club's MVP as a sophomore and junior...had his biggest year numbers-wise as a sophomore, averaging 19.9 points and 6 assists...led Iowa into the Final Four for the first time since 1956 as a senior and the Hawkeyes were 16-1 in his 17 outings that year.

PERSONAL: Ronnie was an All-State performer at Chicago's Dunbar High School...returned to the Chicago area during the summer where he continued rehab on his knee and watching Cubs' games...one of the Lakers' most dedicated weight lifters...very quiet and soft-spoken...member of the gold medal-winning U.S. team in the 1979 Pan American Games...returned to Iowa and received his degree during the summer of 1982...Ronnie is single and lives in Culver City during the season, then returns home to Glenview, Illinois for the summer.

1985-86: Byron recovered from a mid-season shooting slump and finished the season very strongly, averaging 21.3 points on .582 FG shooting over the final six games . . . failed to make half of his shots in December, January and February, shooting a combined .477 over those months, but hit .558 before and after . . . got off to a fast start averaging 24.3 points on .617 FGs over the first three games of the season . . . after missing 23 of 26 3FG tries during his mid-season slump he finished the season sinking 13-21 3FGs (.619) and his .361 3FG pct. would have ranked among the NBA leaders but he failed to qualify after leading the league in 1984-85. . . became the first guard and only the fourth player in Laker history (joining Wilt Chamberlain, Mitch Kupchak and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar) to make at least 10 FGs without missing a shot when he went 10-10 at Dallas on Feb. 26. . . scored his season-high 31 points at Phoenix Oct. 31, one below his career high, and matched another career high with nine reounds in Seattle March 9. . . came off the bench for 12 straight games beginning in late January and after averaging 22.3 points in the first three, averaged 7.9 in the last nine. . . re-inserted in the starting lineup on Feb. 23 and scored in double figures in the next 15 games, his longest streak of the season. . . scored in double figures in 25 of his last 27 outings. . . led Lakers in scoring seven times, steals on 23 occasions and had the second-highest steals average on the club. . . scored in double figures in 59 games, 20 or more on 24 occasions. . . missed five games while on the Injured List in mid-November due to a strained left hamstring and sat out another game in March with the flu. . . only Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and James Worthy attempted more FGs than his 989. . . averaged 16 points in the playoffs, hitting 6-17 (.353) 3FGs and 38-42 FTs (.905). . . scored in double figures in 13 of 14 post-season contests, including the last six, and scored 20 or more five times. . . reached his playoff-high 24 points twice and averaged 18 points on .556 FGs in the San Antonio series, 17.3 points on .506 FGs vs. Dallas and 13.2 points on .441 FGs vs. Houston.

CAREER: Byron was the fourth player and first guard taken in the 1983 college draft, but was traded to the Lakers by the Clippers the day before the Lakers' pre-season started. . . after a slow start Byron worked his way into the starting lineup and wound up as the third-leading vote-getter on the All-Rookie team. . . was shooting just .364 FGs after his first 16 games but shot .509 after Jan. 1 to finish at .484. . . suffered a sprained right knee during the last week of the regular season which slowed him during the early rounds of the playoffs. . . had his career-high 32 points at Denver Feb. 1, 1984. . . had his best season, statistically, in 1984-85, with career highs in virtually every category, including scoring (16.0), games (81), minutes (2305), rebounds (210), assists (244), FG pct. (.539) and FT pct. (.820). . . led the NBA with a .433 3FG pct., the highest since Campy Russell shot .439 in 1981-82. . . ranks 10th in Laker history in FG pct., ninth in steals.

COLLEGE: Although Byron played at Arizona State for just three years he left as the school's all-time scoring leader with 1,752 points. . . shot better than .500 and his scoring average increased each year, topped by his 21.6 average as a senior when he scored a school-record 713 points. . . averaged 13.6 points in 1979-80 and 16.6 the following year. . . sat out 1981-82 due to academic difficulties. . . scored in double figures in 31 of 33 games in 1982-83 and had his career-high 35 points vs. Oregon State. . . also had 32 points and 12 rebounds vs. Stanford. . . finished second in steals and third in assists and career scoring average at ASU. . . made the All-Pac 10 first team as a senior and Pac-10 Rookie of the Year in 1980. . . two-time MVP of the Fiesta Classic and MVP of the Aloha Classic in 1982. . . played with four other NBA-bound players at ASU: Lafayette Lever, Alton Lister, Kurt Nimphius and Sam Williams.

PERSONAL: Byron grew up 14 blocks from The Forum and attended nearby Morningside High School, where he set the school scoring record. . . selected to the McDonald's and Parade Magazine All-America teams while in high school and selected to play in the prestigious Dapper Dan Classic. . . grew up rooting for Jerry West and idolized Bob McAdoo to the extent that he put Doo's number on his sneakers. . . MVP of the Southern California Summer Pro League in 1985 after averaging 33.9 points, and led the league in scoring this past summer (31.6) while playing with the league champion NBA Pros. . . keeps the team amused with his impersonations, with specialities of Stevie Wonder, Mr. T and Eddie Murphy. . . plays the drums and his other hobbies include football, baseball and horseback riding. . . Byron and his wife, Anita, live in Los Angeles with their son, Thomas.

Kelly Tripucka's long three-point shot at the buzzer gives the Pistons a nationally-televised, 118-115, decision over the Lakers at the Silverdome.

January 22
The Lakers' first visit to the Boston Garden since winning the title ends with a 110-95 loss to the Celtics.

January 24
With MAGIC JOHNSON (sore knee) and KURT RAMBIS (baby) sidelined, the Clippers defeat the Lakers, 120-109, handing the Lakers their first back-to-back loss in more than a year.

January 25
KURT RAMBIS returns but EARVIN JOHNSON is still sidelined as the Denver Nuggets hand the Lakers their third straight loss, 127-115, at The Forum.

January 28
KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR scores 32 points and BYRON SCOTT contributes 23 off the bench as the Lakers regain their winning ways with a 125-115 decision over the Central Division-leading Milwaukee Bucks.

January 30
The Lakers limit Portland to 33-93 FGs (.355), their best defensive showing of the season, in a 118-94 triumph in Portland.

January 31
BYRON SCOTT scores 24 points as the Lakers spoil the homecoming of Bob McAdoo in his debut with the Sixers by handing Philadelphia a 135-100 pounding.

February 2
KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR pours in 40 points and MICHAEL COOPER appears in his 300th consecutive regular-season game, but the New York Knicks upend the Lakers, 103-96, as MAGIC JOHNSON misses his sixth straight game.

February 4
MAGIC JOHNSON returns to the Laker lineup and helps his teammates to a 110-102 victory over Dallas at The Forum.

February 6
In their final outing before the All-Star break the Lakers roll to a 117-95 triumph in Houston as KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR pours in 46 points, his high game since November, 1975. JAMES WORTHY grabs a then season-high 13 rebounds.

February 9
The Lakers are well-represented in the NBA All-Star Game in Dallas as KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR scores 21 points in his unprecedented 15th All-Star appearance, MAGIC JOHNSON dishes out 15 assists after becoming the first player to earn more than one million votes in the All-Star balloting, JAMES WORTHY adds 20 points in his All-Star debut and PAT RILEY coaches the West for the fourth time in five years. The East wins, 139-132.

February 11
In their first game following the All-Star Game the Lakers suffer their worst defeat of the season, falling to the Warriors in Oakland, 137-113. PAT RILEY is ejected late in the first half for the first time in his coaching career.

February 12
The Lakers recover from their worst loss of the season with a 126-100 triumph in Phoenix as MIKE MCGEE scores 26 points.

February 14
KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR scores 25 points and plays 24 minutes to become the NBA's all-time leader in that category as the Lakers defeat the Atlanta Hawks, 141-117. The Lakers have their best day at the FT line all season, hitting 36-37 FTs (.973).

February 16
The Boston Celtics complete a two-game sweep by handing the Lakers a 105-99 setback, despite 35 points by JAMES WORTHY.

February 19
The Lakers begin a five-game road trip with a 90-81 triumph in Indiana but lose JAMES WORTHY for six games after the All-Star forward suffers a contusion to his groin in a collision with the Pacers' Vern Fleming.

February 21
With JAMES WORTHY sidelined, KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR'S 28 points aren't enough as former Laker assistant Dave Wohl guides the host New Jersey Nets to a 121-106 triumph.

February 23
KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR appears in his 1,304th NBA game, breaking the record set by Elvin Hayes, but MAGIC JOHNSON is the star in Philadelphia, scoring a season-high 34 points and sending the game into OT with a three-point shot with five seconds to play, as the Lakers defeat the Sixers, 117-111.

February 24
Spud Webb, the shortest man in the NBA, stands tall against the Lakers, getting season highs of 23 points and 13 assists to lead the Hawks to a 102-93 decision over the Lakers in Atlanta.

February 26
BYRON SCOTT hits all 10 of his FG tries, the greatest shooting night by a guard in Laker history, as the Lakers close the road trip with a 3-2 record with a 119-116 verdict over the Mavs in Dallas. The Lakers have their best shooting night of the season, hitting 51-78 FGs (.654).

February 28
MICHAEL COOPER sets a club record by sinking five three-point shots as the Lakers return to The Forum with a 115-103 victory over Phoenix.

March 3
KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR scores 34 points and KURT RAMBIS gets 16 points and 16 rebounds, 11 at the offensive end, the third-highest total in club history, as the Lakers welcome the return of JAMES WORTHY with a 127-117 victory over the Warriors at The Forum. MITCH KUPCHAK sprains his left knee for the second time in nine days.

March 5
MIKE MCGEE'S 20 points lead the Lakers to a 130-84 rout of the Utah Jazz, the Lakers' biggest winning margin since Nov. 13, 1979. MITCH KUPCHAK undergoes arthroscopic surgery on his left knee.

March 6
MAGIC JOHNSON scores 30 points, hands out 14 assists, and hits the game-winning basket on a driving hook across the lane as the Lakers score a 112-111 triumph in Oakland against the Warriors.

March 8
MAGIC JOHNSON sends the game into OT with a three-point shot with five seconds left in the fourth quarter and the Lakers hand the Sacramento Kings a 122-121 setback in double-overtime, continuing a Forum win streak over the Kings that began in 1974. Magic scores 33 points and JAMES WORTHY adds 32.

March 9
MAGIC JOHNSON scores 30 points, marking the first time in his NBA career that he gets 30 in three straight games, as the Lakers win in Seattle, 108-106.

March 10
MAGIC JOHNSON, who averaged 26.4 points and 12.8 assists in leading the Lakers to a 5-0 record, is named NBA Player of the Week. In addition, the Lakers place MITCH KUPCHAK on the Injured List and sign JEROME HENDERSON to a 10-day contract.

March 11
The Lakers clinch their fifth straight Pacific Division title with a 129-108 decision over the Clippers at The Forum.

March 13
In a game marred by a fight between Maurice Lucas and Tom Chambers the Lakers reach the 50-victory mark for the seventh season in a row with a 105-92 triumph over Seattle at The Forum. MAGIC JOHNSON hands out 13 assists to break the 5,000 assist mark for his career.

March 16
KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR continues his domination over Houston's "Twin Towers" by scoring 43 points and MAGIC JOHNSON contributes his first triple-double since November (19 points, 12 rebounds, 12 assists) as the Lakers defeat the Midwest Division leaders, 116-111.

March 18
The Lakers record their season-high ninth straight win with a 128-122 decision over Portland. Following the game the club waives JEROME HENDERSON and signs 7-2 PETUR GUDMUNDSSON.

March 19
For the lone time all season the Lakers squander a lead entering the fourth quarter and have their nine-game winning streak snapped by the Clippers, 115-114, at the Sports Arena.

March 24
PETUR GUDMUNDSSON gets 14 points and nine rebounds in his Laker debut and his teammates clinch the best record in the Western Conference with a 124-102 decision over San Antonio.

March 25
JAMES WORTHY scores 30 points and MAGIC JOHNSON dishes out 19 assists as the Lakers snap a three-game losing streak to the Nuggets with a 121-115 win in Denver.

March 28
PETUR GUDMUNDSSON signs a second, 10-day contract with the Lakers.

March 29
The Lakers score just 11 points in the first quarter and score a season-low total in an 88-87 loss in Seattle.

March 30
JAMES WORTHY scores 34 points but KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR's 16 are far more significant in a 124-117 win over Golden State at The Forum. Kareem's left-handed hook in the third quarter enables him to become the first player in NBA history to reach 35,000 points.

April 2
The Lakers place RONNIE LESTER, bothered by a chronic cartilage problem in his left knee, on the Injured List and return MITCH KUPCHAK to the active roster.

April 3
Nine Lakers score in double figures led by 24 points by BYRON SCOTT and MICHAEL COOPER appears in his 400th consecutive game, including playoffs, as the Lakers roll to a 135-105 decision over Sacramento.

April 6
The Lakers lose in Houston for the first time since 1981 as the Rockets prevail, 109-103.

April 8
The Lakers reach the 60-win mark for the second year in a row and fifth time in club history with a 120-114 triumph in Portland.

April 13
With MAGIC JOHNSON, KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR and KURT RAMBIS on the sidelines, the Dallas Mavericks end the Lakers' 13-game home-court winning streak in the season finale, 127-104. For the second year in a row the Lakers finish with a 62-20 record, the second-best in club history.

April 17
The Lakers open their title defense with a 135-88 triumph over San Antonio, the third-biggest margin of victory in club playoff history. The Lakers shoot a club-record .663 from the floor and limit the Spurs to 18 rebounds, an NBA playoff record.

April 19
The Lakers break open a close game in the third quarter and record their second one-sided victory over San Antonio, 122-94, behind EARVIN JOHNSON's 30 points.

April 23
The Lakers sweep the first-round series, 3-0, with a 114-94 triumph in San Antonio. The Lakers win the three games by a total of 95 points.

April 27
KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR, BYRON SCOTT and JAMES WORTHY combine for 75 points as the Lakers open the second round with a 130-116 decision over Dallas.

April 30
The Lakers rally from a fourth-quarter deficit for their fifth straight playoff triumph, 117-113 over Dallas, as KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR, JAMES WORTHY, EARVIN JOHNSON and BYRON SCOTT all score at least 20 points.

May 2
Mark Aguirre scores 27 points and Derek Harper adds his playoff-high 24 as the Mavs hand the Lakers their first playoff loss, 110-108, in Dallas.

May 4
Mark Aguirre's 39 points and 28 by Rolando Blackman overcome 33 points by KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR and a triple-double (29p, 14a, 15r) by EARVIN JOHNSON as the Mavs even the series with another two-point verdict, 120-118.

May 6
KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR scores 34 points and narrowly misses a triple-double with eight rebounds and nine assists as the Lakers take a 3-2 lead over Dallas with a 116-113 decision at The Forum.

May 8
KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR's 27 points and EARVIN JOHNSON's 17 assists lead the Lakers past Dallas into the Western Conference finals with a 120-107 victory in Dallas.

May 10
KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR (31 points) and EARVIN JOHNSON (26 points, 18 assists) lead the Lakers to a 119-107 triumph and a 1-0 lead over the Rockets, in what eventually becomes the Lakers' last win of the season.

May 13
Ralph Sampson and Akeem Olajuwon combine for 46 points, 29 rebounds and 11 blocked shots, as the Rockets hand the Lakers their first home loss of the playoffs, 112-102, to even the series at a game apiece.

May 16
Akeem Olajuwon gets 40 points and 12 rebounds to lead the Rockets to a 2-1 lead with a 117-109 verdict in Houston. EARVIN JOHNSON delivers 20 assists for the Lakers and KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR scores 33 points.

May 18
The Rockets, who entered the series with just one win over the Lakers in Houston since 1981, make it two in a row with a 105-95 victory to take a 3-1 lead.

May 21
With Ralph Sampson providing the winning basket with a twisting jumper at the final buzzer the Rockets eliminate the Lakers with a 114-112 decision at The Forum. Thus ends the Lakers' bid to become the first team to win back-to-back NBA titles since the '60's, as well as the club's bid for a fifth consecutive Western Conference title.

Who says the Lakers failed to repeat last year? Actually, the club did repeat . . . at least its won-loss record. For the second year in a row the Lakers finished with a 62-20 mark, the second-best record in club history. Only the record-setting 1971-72 Lakers, who won 33 straight games en route to a 69-13 record and the club's first title in Los Angeles, have finished with a better record. Last year's club was the fifth Laker team to have won 60 games.

The Lakers had a banner year at the gate last year, setting a club record by drawing 689,905 people to their 41 regular-season games, an average of 16,827. The previous club record was 668,340 (16,301) set by the record-setting (69-13) 1971-72 Lakers, the club's first Championship team in Los Angeles. The Lakers sold out The Forum for 26 of their 41 home matches last year, including the last nine. The Lakers also topped all NBA clubs in road attendance, drawing an average of 14,983. The Lakers achieved two other attendance firsts last year by selling out both pre-season games, the first pre-season sell-outs in club history, as well as selling out a home opener for the first time. In addition, the Lakers sold out all of their home playoff contests for the third time in club history.

Amazingly, Laker players made at least 10 FGs without a miss on three occasions last year, a feat that had been accomplished only twice before in club history. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar had the distinction of doing it twice, hitting 11-11 against Phoenix on Dec. 12 and 10-10 vs. Golden State on Dec. 29. Byron Scott became the first guard to reach that feat on Feb. 26 in Dallas, going 10-10. James Worthy was credited with a 14-14 outing in Sacramento on Dec. 28, but later pointed out that he had missed a shot. Prior to last season only Wilt Chamberlain and Mitch Kupchak had hit 10-10 or better in club history.

TELEVISION — KHJ-TV 9 LOS ANGELES

Each of the Lakers' 41 regular season road games and all of the club's away playoff contests will be televised in Los Angeles. KHJ-TV Channel 9 and the Lakers' television network will televise 37 of the club's regular-season road games, with CBS scheduled to televise the other four games: Nov. 1 at Houston, Jan. 24 at Dallas, Feb. 22 at Philadelphia and April 5 at Denver. KHJ and the Laker network will televise each road playoff game not aired by CBS. Chick Hearn and Keith Erickson provide the play-by-play as part of the radio/tv simulcast.

PRIME TICKET

Two showdowns with the Western Conference champion Houston Rockets highlight Prime Ticket's 23-game Laker broadcast schedule. All of the telecasts will take place from The Forum and will be shown live. In addition, all available home playoff games will be cablecast by Prime Ticket.

Beginning its second year of operation, the Prime Ticket Network is the first and only regional sports network in the west with exclusive programming for basic cable television. Co-owned by Dr. Jerry Buss and cable pioneer Bill Daniels, Prime Ticket can be currently seen by 1.4 million subscribers in 188 communities throughout California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii.

In addition to 23 Laker telecasts, Prime Ticket's fall and winter programming is highlighted by 37 Los Angeles Kings home and road games, and 24 Los Angeles Lazers games, as well as the Forum Championship Tennis Challenge and Fight Night At The Forum. College football, basketball, soccer, volleyball, and tennis from Division One west coast schools like UCLA, USC, Nevada Las Vegas, Hawaii, Loyola Marymount, Pepperdine, Cal State Fullerton and San Diego State, are also featured.

*Overtime Game

The Lakers got off to a fast start last season, winning their first four games, all on the road, and posting records of 11-1, 19-2 and 24-3. Then, beginning with a season-long nine-game winning streak in March, the club won 19 of 22 games before losing the season finale to Dallas at The Forum. In addition to the nine-game winning streak the Lakers had winning streaks of eight and seven games early in the season. The Lakers won their first six road games of the season and had a 13-game homecourt winning streak snapped on the last night of the regular season.

THE FORUM. . . HOME OF THE LAKERS

Ground Breaking	July 1, 1966
First Event:	December 30, 1967
	Flyers 2, Kings 0
First Lakers Game:	December 31, 1967
	Lakers 147, Rockets 118
Basketball Capacity:	17,505
Hockey:	16,005
Conventions:	19,385
Boxing:	18,780
Concerts:	19,000

The Forum, built by Jack Kent Cooke in 1967 and purchased by Jerry Buss in 1979, is one of the world's premier sports and entertainment showplaces.

Forum history highlights include the largest live boxing gate, $475,640, in West Coast history when Muhammad Ali split decisioned Ken Norton on Sept. 10, 1973; Tony Bennett and Duke Ellington in the first Forum concert in 1968; the Lakers 114-100 victory of the New York Knicks on May 7, 1972 to bring the NBA championship to Los Angeles.

Approximately 30 million people have flocked to such Forum events as world championship boxing, the Harlem Globetrotters, concerts of all shapes and dimensions, ice shows, the circus, rodeos, the Los Angeles Strings of Team Tennis, the Los Angeles Times Indoor Track & Field Games and seemingly countless other spectacular entertainment and sporting events.

The Forum added another distinction when it served as the venue for the men's and women's basketball competition in the 1984 Olympic Games.

This year, on February 11, The Forum will serve as the site for the Major Indoor Soccer League All-Star Game.

More than 70 percent of seating is between the baskets or goals, and no seat is more than 170 feet from the playing surface.

The finest in dining is provided in the private Forum Club, the public Whistle Stop and at numerous concession stands.

LAKERS YEAR-BY-YEAR

1961 — Lakers first season in Los Angeles after 12 years in Minneapolis. Finish in second place in the Western Division behind St. Louis. Forward Elgin Baylor winds up as the second leading scorer in the NBA with 2,538 points and a 34.8 ppg. average. Playoffs: Defeat Detroit (3-2), but lose to St. Louis (3-4).

1962 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS. Lakers win the West as Jerry West pours in 2,310 points (30.8) and a part-time Elgin Baylor averages 38.3. Playoffs: Baylor averages 38.6 points and West 31.5 as the Lakers defeat Detroit (4-2), but lose to Boston (3-4) in the championship series in an overtime seventh game. Schaus coached.

1963 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS. Elgin Baylor again finishes as the second leading scorer in the league with 2,719 points (34.0) as the Lakers roll to their second division title. Playoffs: Lakers defeat St. Louis (4-3), but lose to Boston in the finals (2-4). Schaus coached.

1964 — West (2,064 pts., 28.7 average) and Baylor (1,983 pts., 25.4 average) finish as the fifth and sixth leading scorers in the league, but Lakers finish in third place behind San Francisco and St. Louis. Playoffs: Lose to St. Louis (2-3) in first round. Schaus coached.

1965 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS. West paces the Lakers with 31.0 ppg. – second best in the league. Playoffs: Lakers beat Baltimore (4-2) in the division finals despite the absence of the injured Elgin Baylor. Lose to Boston (1-4) in the championship. Jerry West has a record-breaking playoff, scoring an incredible 447 points for a 40.6 average in the 11 games played. Schaus coached.

1966 — Lakers lead the NBA in scoring, averaging 119.5 ppg. West again finishes as the league's second-best scorer, averaging 31.3 ppg. Playoffs: Lakers defeat St. Louis (4-3) in the division finals, but lose the championship to Boston (3-4) in a seventh game that Boston wins by two points, 95-93. Schaus coached.

1967 — Plagued by injuries that keep West out of the lineup for 15 games and Baylor out for 11, the Lakers slide to third place in the Western Division. Playoffs: West manages to play in only one playoff game and the Lakers bow to San Francisco (0-3) in the opening round. Schaus coached.

1968 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS. Under new coach Butch Van Breda Kolff, Lakers roll to division title despite absence of West for 31 games during regular season. Baylor leads the team in scoring (26.0), rebounding (941) and assists(355). Playoffs: Lakers sweep by Chicago (4-1) and San Francisco (4-0), but lose to Boston (2-4) in championship.

1969 — WESTERN DIVISON CHAMPIONS. Lakers start slowly, but compile nine-game win streak in November that puts them in first place for the rest of the season. New Laker Wilt Chamberlain leads league in rebounds (21.1) and field goal percentage (.583). Playoffs: Lakers lose first two playoff games but come back to beat San Francisco (4-2), then overwhelm Atlanta (4-1). Lose to Boston (3-4) in seven games, the last game a 108-106 heartbreaker in Los Angeles. Van Breda Kolff coached.

Lakers Year-By-Year. . .

1970 – WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS Injury jinx again hits Lakers as Wilt Chamberlain tears knee ligaments and is lost to team for regular season. Lakers finish in second place in division. Playoffs: Wilt Chamberlain back, Lakers defeat Phoenix (4-3) and Atlanta (4-0), but run out of miracles in the final series against New York, bowing to the Knicks and a hobbling Willis Reed in seven games (3-4). Joe Mullaney coached.

1971 – PACIFIC DIVISION CHAMPIONS Lakers finish a strong seven games ahead of San Francisco for the division crown, despite Baylor missing all but two games in the regular season. Scoring slack was taken up by Chamberlain (20.7), Happy Hairston (18.6) and Gail Goodrich (17.5). Playoffs: Both Baylor and West are not in uniform, but Lakers still manage to upset Chicago in seven games (4-3) in the opening round. Team falls to eventual World Champion Milwaukee Bucks in five games (1-4). Mullaney coached.

1972 – WORLD CHAMPIONS Lakers set record as winningest team in the history of the NBA with 69 wins, and also compile a 33-game win streak – the longest streak in all professional sports, as they finish in first place in the Pacific Division by an amazing 18 games. Goodrich averages 25.9 points and West hands out a league-leading 747 assists. Playoffs: Lakers roll over Chicago (4-0) and eliminate Milwaukee (4-2) to win the Western Division. Los Angeles spots New York one game lead in the finals, but then rolls to four straight wins to gain the World Championship (4-1). In the final game Wilt Chamberlain hauls down 29 rebounds and scores 24 points as the Lakers win 114-100. Bill Sharman is voted Coach-of-the-Year.

1973 – WESTERN CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS Wilt Chamberlain becomes the first player in NBA history to shoot over 70% from the field (.727) and the Lakers have the second best record in the club's history, winning 60 and losing only 22. Playoffs: Lakers down Chicago (4-3) and Golden State (4-1) to again face New York for the championship. Lakers win the first game, but Knicks' pressure defense causes Los Angeles to average 19 turnovers per game and New York wins the next four and the title (1-4). Sharman coached.

1974 – PACIFIC DIVISION CHAMPIONS Lakers stage a tremendous comeback in the last seven games of the season to erase Golden State's three game lead and win the crown. Their accomplishment was even more remarkable considering that they did it without last year's stalwarts, Wilt Chamberlain and Jim McMillan, and with West sidelined for 51 games. Playoffs: Lose to Milwaukee in opening round (1-4). Sharman coached.

1975 – Jerry West retires. Cazzie Russell injures his knee and is out for the balance of the season, and the Lakers miss the NBA playoffs for the first time in 14 seasons. High points of the year include Gail Goodrich's 53 points against Kansas City-Omaha and Happy Hairston's 14 rebounds in one quarter against Philadelphia. Sharman coached.

1976 – New Laker Kareem Abdul-Jabbar becomes the first Laker in either Minneapolis or Los Angeles to win the League MVP award, the fourth time in his seven-year career that he has received that honor. In one of the most convincing displays of basketball dominance, Abdul-Jabbar leads the league in rebounds, blocked shots, minutes played, is second in scoring, fifth in shooting, and second on the Lakers in steals and assists. However, Lakers are totally unable to win on the road (9-32) and are edged out of the playoffs by losing the last two games of the season at Portland and Phoenix. Sharman coached.

1977 – PACIFIC DIVISION CHAMPIONS Former Laker great, Jerry West, returns to the team as head coach, and in his rookie season guides the Lakers to the best record in the NBA – 53-29 – and the Pacific Division title. In the process, Lakers set an NBA record with 37 home wins and a Laker team record with 21 consecutive home victories. Center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar wins his second straight NBA Most Valuable Player award, the fifth time in his eight year career that he has earned such honors. Playoffs: Lakers defeat Golden State in seven games (4-3) as Abdul-Jabbar averages 37 points, 18.7 rebounds, and shoots .607 from the field. In the Western Conference finals, Lakers are unable to contain Portland's quick guards and are swept, 0-4.

1978 – Five Laker players suffer broken bones in the first half of the season including center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who breaks his hand in the first two minutes of the opening game of the year when he punches Milwaukee center Kent Benson in retaliation for a thrown elbow. In addition, forward Kermit Washington is fined $10,000 and suspended 60 days for punching Houston forward Rudy Tomjanovich. In the second half of the season, with most of the players healthy, Lakers roll to a 28-13 mark, second best in the league. For the season Lakers shoot .487 from the field, second best in the history of the franchise. Playoffs: Laker guards are pressured into shooting a combined .363 (37-102) from the field as team loses to Seattle, 1-2, in the first round.

1979 – West completes three-year reign as coach with 47-35 record and playoff elimination by Seattle for second straight year. Bullets and Sonics are strongest NBA teams, having reached finals two years in a row. Lakers are using small forwards, Jamaal Wilkes and Adrian Dantley. In summer prior to 1980 season, Cooke sells his California Sports Inc. empire (Lakers, Kings, Forum and a ranch) to Santa Monica real estate developer Jerry Buss for $67.5 million. Buss hires Jack McKinney to be head coach and Paul Westhead from LaSalle as assistant.

1980 – WORLD CHAMPIONS McKinney falls from bicycle Nov. 8 and Westhead takes over, guiding team to Lakers' second NBA championship in their 20 years in LA. Abdul-Jabbar is MVP. Lakers win final playoff game over 76ers in Philadelphia without injured Kareem, and rookie star Magic Johnson wins playoff MVP award. Westhead is then given a new four-year contract by Buss and McKinney signs to coach Indiana Pacers. Pat Riley, lured from broadcasting booth where he was Hearn's color man, is new assistant coach.

1981 – Lakers open season with five consecutive wins, their best start ever in Los Angeles. On November 18, Magic Johnson, in a game against Kansas City, suffers a torn cartilage in his left knee and is out for the next 45 games. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, plays brilliantly in his absence, at one point scoring 22 or more points in 33 consecutive games. Lakers record a 28-17 mark without Magic. Head coach

Paul Westhead wins his 100th NBA game, March 17 vs. Dallas, becoming fifth fastest in league history to do so. Los Angeles finishes second in the Pacific Division to Phoenix with a 54-28 record. Playoffs: Despite the home-court advantage, Lakers stunned in opening mini-series by Houston 2-1. Rockets advance to NBA Finals, before losing to Boston in six games.

1982 – WORLD CHAMPIONS. Lakers got off to a slow start and Paul Westhead is fired on November 19, record is 7-4. Pat Riley takes over and the Lakers win 17 of next 20 games and stand 24-7 and open up a five game lead over Seattle in the Pacific Division. Mitch Kupchak injures his knee on December 19 and is lost for year. Lakers sign free agent Bob McAdoo on December 24 and compensate New Jersey with a draft pick. Kurt Rambis emerges as Kupchak's replacement on a January road trip to the mid-west. Lakers finish strong, winning 15 of final 19 games and their record of 57-25 is third best in NBA. Lakers sweep Phoenix and San Antonio 4-0 to reach NBA Finals, becoming first NBA club ever to record back-to-back series sweeps and win first game of NBA Finals vs. Philadelphia to set NBA record for most consecutive playoff wins. Lakers win second NBA World Championship in three years with a 114-104 win over 76ers in sixth game. Magic Johnson again wins MVP with a steady, 'blue-collar' performance which included 13 points, 13 rebounds and 13 assists in title game. McAdoo plays key role throughout playoffs and gets his first World Championship ring.

1983 – WESTERN CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS. Lakers being the season as the first reigning champion to add the No. 1 pick in the college draft with the selection of James Worthy. Golden State spoils the team's Championship ring ceremony on Opening Night with a 132-117 victory, but the Lakers win their next seven games. Commissioner Lawrence O'Brien upholds a protest lodged by the San Antonio Spurs after a double-overtime win by the Lakers in San Antonio, and the Spurs eventually win the completed game. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar passes two milestones, getting his 14,000th rebound and scoring his 29,000th point. Magic Johnson leads the league in assists and is named to the All-NBA First Team for the first time. Bob McAdoo misses the final 32 regular season games due to an injured toe, and James Worthy is lost for the playoffs when he suffers a broken leg in the final week of the regular-season. Lakers finish with a 58-24 record, one game better than the previous season. Pat Riley becomes the third-fastest coach in NBA history to win 100 games. Lakers defeat the Portland Trail Blazers in five games and the San Antonio Spurs in six before losing to the Philadelphia 76ers in four games in the Championship Series.

1984 – WESTERN CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS. Prior to the pre-season opener, Norm Nixon and Eddie Jordan are traded to the San Diego Clippers for Byron Scott and Swen Nater. Mitch Kupchak, who sat out 23 months from knee injuries suffered in December, 1981, returns to the club in November. Earvin Johnson, off to a record-pace in assists, suffers a dislocated right index finger on Dec. 2 and is lost for a month. Bob McAdoo picks up the slack, coming off the bench and scoring in double figures in 25 straight games spanning December and January. Magic Johnson sets an All-Star Game record with 22 assists and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar leads the West with 25 points and 13 rebounds. Abdul-Jabbar breaks Wilt Chamberlain's all-time NBA FG record in Boston Feb. 8, the team's final victory in a season-long eight-game winning streak. Johnson's 23 assists vs. Seattle Feb. 21 tie the club record. Jamaal Wilkes comes down with an intestinal infection in February and never regains his usual form. Abdul-Jabbar breaks Wilt Chamberlain's all-time NBA scoring record vs. Utah at Las Vegas April 5. the Lakers win their third straight Pacific Division title, eliminate Kansas City in three games, Dallas in five and Phoenix in six, before losing to Boston in seven games in the Championship Series. Johnson sets an all-time playoff record with 24 assists in Game 2 vs. Phoenix, and his 21 assists in Game 3 vs. Boston are an all-time Championship Series record. post-season honors: Abdul-Jabbar and Johnson are first team All-NBA, Michael Cooper is first team All-Defensive with Abdul-Jabbar second team, and Johnson wins the inaugural Schick Pivotal Player Award.

1985 – WORLD CHAMPIONS. Lakers start slowly, losing their first two games and five of their first eight. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar announces on December 5 that he will return for an unprecedented 17th season. Earvin Johnson receives a record 957,447 votes in the All-Star balloting. Jamaal Wilkes suffers torn ligaments in his left knee on February 1 and is lost for the remainder of the season. Pat Riley is named Coach of the Month as the Lakers have their winningest March ever (13-1). Close the regular season winning 31 of their last 35 games, 17 in a row at home. Byron Scott leads the league in three-point FG percentage (.433). Lakers win their fourth straight Pacific Division title by a league-record 20 games, and set two other records by shooting .545 FG and recording 2,575 assists. Eliminate the Suns in three games and the Blazers and Nuggets in five, before finally defeating the Celtics in a six-game Championship Series, in Boston, after eight previous failures. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar wins his second Playoff MVP trophy. Earvin Johnson is named to the All-NBA first team and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar is a second-team selection, while Michael Cooper receives first team All-Defensive honors.

1986 – PACIFIC DIVISION CHAMPIONS. The Lakers open with four straight wins on the road and get off to the best start in club history, going 11-1, 19-2 and 24-3. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar signs a one-year contract extension early in the season to play an unprecedented 18th NBA season in 1986-87. Abdul-Jabbar is named Sportsman of the Year by Sports Illustrated. Four days after scoring 40 points against New York and Patrick Ewing, Abdul-Jabbar scores 46 points, his highest-scoring game since 1975, in Houston. Earvin Johnson becomes the first player to earn more than one million votes in the All-Star balloting and he's joined in the West starting lineup by Abdul-Jabbar and James Worthy. Abdul-Jabbar becomes the all-time NBA leader in minutes and games played and reaches the 35,000 point mark on March 30. Michael Cooper, who set a club record by hitting five three-point baskets February 28 vs. Phoenix, appears in his 400th consecutive game (including playoffs) on April 3. Johnson leads the NBA in assists for the third time in his six-year career. Lakers finish 62-20 for the second year in a row, the second-best record in club history. Lakers win their fifth straight Pacific Division title by an NBA-record 22-game margin. Houston eliminated the Lakers in five games in the Western Conference finals keeping the Lakers from a chance for back-to-back titles as well as a fifth straight appearance in the Championship Series.

EIGHT LAKERS ENSHRINED IN THE HALL OF FAME

Eight men who have been a part of the Lakers' organization have been inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Massachusetts. Three of them earned their notoriety playing for the Minneapolis Lakers: George Mikan, Jim Pollard and Slater Martin. Another honoree, Elgin Baylor, played the first two years of his career in Minneapolis and then starred in Los Angeles before retiring in 1971. Joining Baylor as the only Los Angeles Lakers to make the Hall of Fame—so far—are Wilt Chamberlain and Jerry West, now the club's General Manager. Two other men who have been affiliated with the organization have also been honored: Bill Sharman, who starred as a player with the Boston Celtics and later coached the Lakers to their first title in Los Angeles in a record-setting season that featured a 33-game winning streak and 69-13 record, and legendary coach Pete Newell, who coached the gold medal-winning U.S. Olympic team in 1960 and the NCAA Champion California Bears in 1959 before serving as the club's General Manager.

Centinela Hospital Medical Center:
The Official Hospital of the Los Angeles Lakers

When the Lakers sought to protect the health and enhance the fitness of its players, the obvious choice was for Lakers officials to name Centinela Hospital Medical Center as the "Official Hospital of the Lakers."

An international leader in the field of sports medicine, Centinela's reputation is so well recognized that it was designated an "Official Hospital of the 1984 Olympic Games" and both the White House and the State Department have chosen Centinela as their treatment center whenever the President or other major dignitaries are in the Los Angeles area.

Centinela staff orthopedists are the team physicians for most of the Los Angeles professional teams, as well as many teams and individual athletes in all sports throughout the United States and Canada. In addition to sports medicine, Centinela Hospital is dedicated to injury prevention, performance testing, research and education.

The Centinela Hospital team for the Lakers is headed by two internationally recognized orthopedists, Robert K. Kerlan, M.D., and Stephen J. Lombardo, M.D., and by Michael Mellman, M.D., a specialist in Internal Medicine. These physicians attend all Laker games and check each player at half time and after each game. They also consult with the players regarding their physical problems and fitness programs between games and off-season.

Centinela Hospital also houses the National Athletic Health Institute (NAHI) at its Inglewood, California complex, an organization that stands at the forefront of treatment and research into athletic related health problems and fitness improvement.

The NAHI staff has developed a sophisticated battery of tests to evaluate the health and fitness of both athletes and private citizens. They use test results to detect illnesses and health problems, but they then go much further and advise the individual how healthy and fit he or she has the potential to become.

Test results are used to form an exercise prescription—a health, fitness and activity program as personal as one's own fingerprint. Lakers coaches and exercise physiologists then use these individual prescriptions to help each team member achieve his best potential.

No program better demonstrates Centinela's leadership in sports medicine than the pioneering research done in the hospital's Biomechanics Laboratory. Here, researchers use advanced technology and engineering to study the body mechanics of both athletes and nonathletes. The staff has developed scientific methods to meet a number of different goals, including: to help athletes improve their performance; to analyze playing techniques; to reduce sports injuries; to evaluate the effectiveness of sports and exercise equipment; and to improve rehabilitation programs.

Centinela Hospital thus provides health examinations and physical fitness testing and develops fitness programs for each team member.

Finally, the hospital will continue to conduct research and develop data to use as a foundation for the continued good health of the Lakers.

The hospital's relationship with the Lakers has proven to be a winning one for the team. Increased fitness, improved performances and injury prevention have been the results.
